

Maintainer

A maintainer is a person who is in charge of a project and who takes responsibility to see the project through and keep it working. A Developer might find a Maintainer to be the person who takes the initial concept and resources and makes it their goal in life to maintain the project. The director of a non profit organization would be the maintainer. The developer might sit on the Board of Directors.