

Truth

The sum total, or any subset of the sum total, of all that is real. There are things that are real and there are things that are not real. The Truth refers to what is real. Bullshit refers to what is not real.