For what it's worth - if you are going to email us intending to convert us, you're wasting your time. Messages of this type are usually deleted without being read. Similarly, if you are writing to inform us how you will be in Heaven and we will be in Hell, we've already heard that and we are familiar with your belief system. If you write something really offensive we might just publish it as an example of what kinds of email we get from nut cases.

Feel free to contact us with ideas and suggestions.
