

So - What are we going to do about it?

We're going to get real. We're going to figure it out. We're going to make it work. We're going to talk about reality. We're going to challenge other people on their beliefs on the basis of what is real. We're going to ask the tough questions - questions that religions haven't been asked before. We're going to be Realists. We're going to make reality important again. We're going to ask people to prove it. We won't stand for lies and corruption. We say no to the cult mind. We will not let you steal reality from us. We are one people - one planet - and we are all here together. We will not sit back and let anyone destroy our world. We are all in this together and we are going to figure out how to make it work.

Many Christians believe that these are the "End Times". It is our job to ensure that these Christians are wrong about this.

There's a new kid in town and it's name is Reality - and we're here to stay. We are the Church of Reality. We are dedicated to reality the way it really is. We will compete for the religious mind space and we will convert you one minute at a time. Reality is something you can't run from and you can't hide from. We are the Realists - and we are now going to talk about what is and isn't real. The paradigm has shifted and reality is coming back.

We do need to watch that we don't get too arrogant in our relations with other cultures and religions. We have all been misled at some time or another and there are a lot of good people out there trying to do the right thing - but are honestly mistaken about what the right thing is. Some people have accepted bad information based on faith and trust in the wrong people. You can see in the tone of what I'm writing here that I do have some anger about the state of religion. Quite frankly - I would rather be writing spam filters.
