

More Details on if God Exists

This web page replaces a more detailed but far more offensive web page that I (the First One) wrote on the same subject. I apologize in advance to people of faith for it being somewhat offensive and arrogant. But - some times I get off on a rant especially when I am surrounded by arrogant Christians trying to shove Jesus down my throat. If you read on you'll find my original rant that is more of a discussion than official church position.
