

Life Story

Your Life Story is the record of your life from beginning to end. From the moment you are born till the moment you die. It is the record of your life. It is what you do. While we are alive we are writing our life story. We believe in {In:self ownership} and we take control of our lives and determine our own existence. When our life is over and if we accomplished anything worth remembering then our life story is remembered in the {In:Tree of Knowledge} and we become part of the sum total of human understanding.

Our life story is very important to us. It is the story of who we are. it is the ideas that we contribute to humanity. It is what we choose to be our role in existence.
