

Freedom from External Intervention

The Church of Reality takes the position that the life choices of the individual should be protected against external intervention from government, other religions, and political opportunists who would victimize the dying and take away the right to choose from the individual and their family. We take the position that no groups or political processes should be able to impose their values, interfere with, or override the choices of the individual and the family. Our position is that the role of government is only to protect the individual's rights and choices.

Our religion and our choices are different than those of other religions that sometimes feel they need to impose their values on us. We say to them, stay out! We respect your death choices, and we expect our choices to be honored by you as well.
