

Evolution is our Creator

Life on Earth developed through billions of years of evolution. Evolution is a proven fact. We are all {In:Children of the Earth}. All life on this planet has a very similar DNA structure and we carry the DNA blueprint of our evolutionary heritage within our genetic code. Evolution is firmly established in science and continues to stand the test of scrutiny and doubt. New technology is allowing us to create a genetic map of ourselves and reconstruct the {In:Tree of Life} which is our genetic evolutionary history back through time.

Even in our short life span and our short recorded history we see evolution happening all around us. Farmers use evolution to improve crops and animals through selective breeding. Only a few thousand years ago all dogs were wolves but through selective breeding we now have poodles. If we can evolve a wolf into a poodle in a few thousand years imagine the kind of changes you would see over millions of years.

Evolution is our creator. It is a process that allows us to improve ourselves so that we evolve into a better specie in the future. It is a way that we as a human race can advance ourselves. Humanity has advanced to the point where we can control our own evolution and the evolution of other forms of life on this planet. We have changed the evolution of species of life that we use for food so that they produce more food for us. This evolutionary change has allowed us to evolve so that we no longer have to hunt and gather wild food growing around our physical location. We now go to the grocery store and buy our food. This frees us up so that we can invent new tools and surf the web looking for explanations as to how life got here and why we exist.
